

Seasons of Transformation

A Training for Jewish Men

Call of the Shofar is a non-profit organization whose mission is to awaken within the Jewish people an experience of true personal and communal transformation.

This innovative weekend workshop is a unique opportunity to experience the Jewish holidays as actual markers in time that offer us opportunities for heightened awareness and greater fulfillment within ourselves and all our relationships.

We invite you to experience life with more consciousness, vitality and joy

*Hundreds of men have attended this workshop.
Here are some reasons why:*

- Experience deeper connections
  - Experience the freedom to make conscious choices
  - Enhance communication skills
  - Powerfully express your unique light
  - Transform desire into mission
  - Transform anger into power
  - Appreciate our common humanity
  - Live fully in each moment
- ... And achieve all this within a safe and supportive group of Jewish men.

“I went and it changed my life. I now have a better understanding of myself, which has translated into a better relationship with my wife, my children, my friends, and my colleagues at work. And I accomplished that new understanding in a safe, caring, and Jewish environment.”
